Martin and Carmen Moser offer a range of first class wines from 19 hectares of vines (nearly 50 acres) in the best sites in Rohrendorf. The talented winemaker Martin Moser has proved his remarkable consistency and skill over the years, whilst also taking a leading role in the prestigious vintners association "Österreichische Traditionsweingüter". He produces a compact range of expressive wines ranging from delicate whites to dense reds.

Grüner Veltliner is given special attention and feels very much at home in the loess soils of the region. A fifth Grüner Veltliner called "Der Löss" was added to the range in the 2007 vintage. This powerful wine is not released until autumn, a year after the vintage. With the recent extension of the cellar, they now have ideal conditions for the vinification and maturation of exceptional wines. The generously-proportioned, glass-fronted tasting room gives fine views of the terraced vineyard slopes of Rohrendorf. This attractive venue can be hired for wine tastings and culinary events. Martin Moser's efforts have born fruit in export markets, too – he sells in Denmark, Germany and England.

92 Grüner Veltliner DAC Reserve 2009 Der Löss
Medium green-yellow. A multi-faceted nose exhibits complex smoky spice, fresh apple and mango with red currant fruit. Full-bodied, yet thoroughly elegant due to the well-integrated acid and abundant dark and salty minerals. Refreshing grapefruit lingers on the finish of this outstanding food wine. Good aging potential.

Medium green yellow. An attractive bouquet opens with yellow peach and continues with papaya and a touch of blossom honey. The refreshing curve of acid lends taut structure to this complex, highly mineral wine. The finish lingers long and there is plenty of potential for further development.
